A Biblical Framework & Best Practices: Many congregations have an unhealthy culture of silence when it comes to money. We begin our time together with a look at biblical principles of financial stewardship and conversation on encouraging a healthy culture of generosity and faithful stewardship in the congregation.

Handling Money Faithfully & Responsibly: Because the church is entrusted with money donated for God's purposes, we have an obligation to handle in a way that is honest, prompt, transparent and accountable. It's not only the right thing to do, it's also legally required of nonprofits. We'll look at principles and best practices for handling money.

2019 Portico Updates: Important updates to health coverage and retirement benefits for congregations.
